

Description

Public water fountain from El Atance located in Sigüenza, Castilla-La Mancha, Spain. At the end of the 20th century, the village of El Atance was completely submerged under water after the construction of a new reservoir. Before flooding the village, the authorities moved the most important monuments of the town stone by stone, including this fountain dated 1883.

Specifications

Country: Spain Region: Castilla-La Mancha Material: Stone Age: Contemporary Digitization date: 2020 Digitization method: Photogrammetry Photos / scans number: 489 Model URL: https://globaldigitalheritage.org/model/public-water-fountain-el-atance-spain/