

Description

Castillo de Alhama de Murcia is located in the Murcia region of Spain. The castle is situated high on a steep hilltop and is of Islamic origin, built during the 12th and 13th centuries. Portions of the castle recently have been restored. Important structural features include a main tower, extensive wall fortification, and aljibes (cisterns). This 3D model was made using 1590 images captured with a drone and 25 FAROFocus3D scan positions (tower interior) that were processed in Reality Capture, Geomagic Wrap, and Meshlab.
